National Urban League Director To Speak in Tacoma

Vernon E. Jordan, executive director of the national Urban League, will visit Tacoma Friday, April 19, as featured speaker and guest of honor at the annual Tacoma Urban League Awards Dinner.

The dinner, to be held at the Top of the Ocean Restaurant at 7:30 pm with no host cocktails beginning at 6:30 pm, is open to the public, according to the chairman of the planning committee, Pacific Lutheran University President Eugene Wiegman.

The dinner meeting will also feature presentation of Tacoma Urban League Person of the Year Awards and the announcement of newly elected officers and board members.

Jordan, a native of Atlanta, Ga., directs a national Urban League organization that includes three major bureaus, five regional offices and 101 affiliated local organizations. Completing his second year as national director, he has spearheaded a national voter education program active in 10 major cities and has solidified Urban League financial support through a nationwide fund program.

A graduate of DePauw University and Howard University Law School, Jordan has worked in the field of civil rights for his role in the integration of the University of Georgia, escorting the first black student to enroll there onto the campus.

He is a member of the Arkansas, Georgia and Supreme Court Bars, the American and National Bar Associations, and the National Conference of Black Lawyers. He has received 14 honorary degrees and three Presidential appointments.

Jorday previously served as executive director of the United Negro College Fund, Georgia field director of the NAACP and as attorney-consultant for the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity.

"Vernon Jordan is a brilliant, aggressive, dynamic national leader and spokesman for blacks and other minorities," Thomas Dixon, executive director of the Tacoma Urban League, said.

"This program provides an opportunity to exhibit the outstanding accomplishments made by the Urban League, nationally and locally, this past year," Dixon added.

Tickets for the dinner may be purchased at the Urban League office, 1704 S. K St., or may be reserved by calling 383-2006.

. . . a time to rejoice

At Easter, we herald a season of awakening, a time of renewal. All nature's green and growing things dress in their best, as people do, to greet the glorious Eastertide. The world wears a fresh new face . . . in sign and symbol of that spiritual rebirth set forth for all mankind by the radiant Miracle of Easter. In the true spirit of this season, we greet our friends with wishes for a time of joys and blessings.

MEDITATION

THE MOST amiable man on earth can live at peace with his neighbor only as long as his neighbor chooses.

Myth and Irony of Affirmative Action

by Andre' Young

No amount of Affirmative Action, bureaucracy, promotion or sublime rhetoric can substitute for a confirmed belief in human justice and professional fair play. Consequently, Black people might be justified in the conviction that any braggadocio government program designed to increase Black upper level employment usually serves only as a subterfuge for inaction and a facade for non-compliance.

The entire concept of affirmative action is plagued with too many irreconcilable, contradictory and ambiguous directives. The assertion that affirmative action must avoid "reverse discrimination" is paradoxical to the aim and philosophy of corrective social intent. The two-hundred years custom and practice of Black economic disfranchisement cannot be rectified without reversing to some extent the traditional discriminatory preference for whites.

Neither can Affirmative Action deal with white racism and white sexism with the same perspective and within the same realm. Since Black men are not usually employers, the ideological conflict between white women and white men over women's liberation is extraneous to the basic concern of Blacks. If sexual "equality" was made a national mandate today, the Black woman would still have to deal with the more obstructive factor of race.

A measure of the government's intent to enfranchise Black people into the economic mainstream of American society would be for it to deal with the root cause of Black oppression and not the symptoms. The cause can easily be attributed to the deliberate political enclusion of Blacks from the apexes of power and policy making in the institutional, industrial and governmental pyramids. The tacit mission of Affirmative Action Programs is to statistically disperse a token number of blacks and other minorities at the base and intermediate level of the pyramids so as to create the illusion of multi-ethnic economic equality.

In the final analysis, black people must initiate and bring into fruition the affirmation action of black self-reliance and self-determination. Any program, whether it be affirmative action or "integration," that is not designed to make blacks producers, manufacturers, builders, planners, controllers or policy makers in our own right is mythical in concept and an exercise in political false notion. If all the millions of dollars spent to sustain Affirmative Action Programs are not purposed to assist Black people in attaining self-reliance and greater independence, then Affirmative Action itself will result in a lot of sound and fury signifying nothing.

Dear Tac Vac

by Ted Jefferson

Q--On Nov. 30, 1972, I retired from the Army with more than 30 years' service. I receive a 30 percent service-connected disability from VA. The disability compensation I receive is only $77 per month which amounts to only a little over 8 percent of my gross retired pay. As 100 percent disability would result in an amount equal to 100 percent of retirement pay being paid by VA, I had assumed that a 30 percent service-connected disability would result in 30 percent of the gross retirement pay being paid in the form of disability compensation. Is my payment an error on the part of VA or is there some fact of which I am not aware?

A--Your method of computing VA disability compensation is incorrect. Congress has established various amounts payable for specific degrees of disability. For a 30 percent rating $77 is the correct amount; for 100 percent, $495 is payable. When a retiree elects to waive part of his retired pay tor VA compensation, he receives from VA the amount authorized for the degree of disability. He does not receive a percentage of his total retired pay.

Q--I was discharged from active duty about three months ago. My wife and I found the cost of homes so high that we have decided to buy a mobile home. Will the VA guarantee a loan for both the mobile home and land to place it on?

A--Yes. The maximum mobile home guaranty is $10,000. which can be increased to $17,500 if the loan includes site acquistion.

Minority Communities, Health Concerns Workshop

by Marilyn Walton

The Pierce County Health Council and the minority communities are co-sponsoring a Health Concerns Workshop on Monday, April 15, at 7:30 pm at the Tacoma Community House, 1311 South M Street. Any interested individuals are encouraged to attend.

The workshop will give people an opportunity to indicate what, if any, problems they experience in trying to get health care and what health services they use or would use if the services were available.

This workshop is one of several that the Pierce County Health Council plans to hold. The Council currently is working on a health care plan for Pierce County and is using the workshops as a way to find out what kinds of concerns the consumers or users of health services have.

FASHIONABLE

By Denise

"Do the clothes make the individual?" asks Denise.

Like the cigarette advertisement says, "Your good taste is showing." That's how it is with fashion. Looking one's best everyday, whether at home, at work, or at play, or for a very special occasion, is the ultimate requirement for winning a place on this "Fashionables" list.

"Well-groomed" can be a combination of things carefully put together and working for the individual. You, the person, should be seen first, not what you are wearing. If you are told you are lovely (or for a man, that you are handsome), YOU are, instead of that dress or suit that you wear so well. Then you, without a doubt, will be the most fabulous and elegant looking person around.

To accomplish this a person may not be expensively dressed. Carefully select and match your colors. Skin tones are very important with our Ebony hue. Many shades will highlight our accidental quality. Select styles to enhance the figure. Give special notice to accessories and over-all appearance.

Our list of "Fashionables" does not imply an oversight for some, nor is this a contest. Those listed are those who have been noticed in the community as typifying elegance and good taste. Those chosen were recommended very highly by the committee of judges.

10 Fashionable Ladies

1. Mrs. Finky Smith - Beautician
2. Mrs. Suzanne Tuggle - Counselor
3. Mrs. Bonnie Gill - Laboratory Technician
4. Mrs. Margaret Williams - Secretary
5. Mrs. Ruth Jeffries - Public School Coordinator.
6. Mrs. Ada Pearl Robinett - Housewife
7. Mrs. Edna Stubb - Housewife
8. Mrs. Ann Walker - Housewife
9. Ms. Jean Jordan - Clerk
10. Mrs. Barbara Wesley - High School Counselor

10 Fashionable Men

1. Hugh Fountain - Attorney
2. James Walton - Human Rights Commission Director
3. Ester Wilfong - School Administrator
4. Ellis Cain - Ujamma Center Director
5. Arthur ("King Arthur") Knowles - Singer
6. Charles Horne - VFW Post #4 Commander
7. Robert Brown - Policeman
8. Albert Cushon - Counselor
9. Larry Terry - Barber
10. Willie Stewart - High School Principal

THE POLITICIZER

by Lawanna Lee

The City of Tacoma's hiring practices concerns many citizens. The City Personnel Department is administered by the Director of Personnel, Odd A. Lund under the direction of the City Manager, except for those functions specifically reserved by the City Charter to the Civil Service Board.

This may be misleading in that the Director of Personnel is subjected to the direction of the City Manager, and the Civil Service Board. However, the Director of Personnel is the administrator of the Personnel Department. He can make recommendations and revision suggestions to the Civil Service Board.

In conjunction, the Public Utility Board as allowed by the City Charter has a great deal of influence over some recommendations and revisions suggestions. When any proposed rules will affect employees of the Department of Public Utilities, this proposed rule must be reviewed by the Public Utility Board prior to submission to the City Council, and the recommendations or revisions suggested by the Public Utility Board shall be submitted to the City Council above with the proposed rule or revision, by the Director of Personnel. So the Public Utility Board can exercise some influence over the recommendations that are made by the Director of Personnel.

The City Manager and the Director of Utilities may designate an employee or employees from any of the departments, divisions and subdivision. With the approval of the Director of Utilities this employee may: 1) formulate, administer, and supervise an apprentice training program; 2) establish safety rules for employees and carry out a safety program; and 3) investigate and make recommendations on grievances of employees.

Please attend one of the following meetings next week:

1. City Council Meetings - every Tuesday at 7:00 pm in the Council Chambers, 3rd floor, County-City Bldg.
2. County Commissioners Meetings - every Monday and Tuesday of each month, Commissioners Chambers, 10th floor, County-City Bldg.

Hi, Caballeros, wives and kids, hope you're enjoying your spring vacation. I'm addressing this column to our entire Caballero family, that of members and wives and children. So often we forget what it takes to be a Caballero and without the support of each the Caballeros wouldn't exist.

To show our gratitude our summer will be filled with things for your entire family. We'll have fishing, picnics, bar-b-ques, and our usual good times. Get a pencil and jot the dates on your calendar for future references.

The Caballeros will begin with the President's Grand Opening of the Patio and Bar-B-Que pit on Sunday May 12th at 3pm. Pres. Hershell Gil has been working hard to make ready this milestone in our club's "patio parties".

The fishing trips to Westport will begin on July 6th with space for 14 persons and Aug 31st for 18 people. Fred Ross is taking names on a first come first served basis so hurry.

Our Grand picnic will be at Hi-Dive as usual, the date being July 20th for this one. We will announce dates for other patio and Bar-B-Que parties as they occur during our long summer social season, until then I'll be seeing you at the Caballeros.

Housing Top Priority in Grant Allocation

A large portion of a $500,000 Model Cities grant will go into housing programs, if the City Council approves the recommendations made by the Executive Board last week.

The board tried to follow the desires of the community which set housing as its top priority last year.

Most of the money available for projects went to the Yakima Square Development ($50,000), the Municipal Authority ($50,000), and the Neighborhood Development Program ($75,000). The three programs provide housing, physical improvements, or both.

The Yakima Square, proposed by the Tacoma Urban League, will be a service center for the community and apartments for the elderly and handicapped. The board approved $50,000 for the project if requirements set by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) are met. The City Council must approve the program, and all the funds to complete the project must be available before Model Cities funds can be spent, according to HUD's requirements. Funds to complete the development at 27th and Yakima must come from other sources.

The City Council will have to decide if the city can legally participate in the project. HUD has said the project would be legal according to federal law, but the city attorney has issued an opinion stating that state law would prohibit city funds being used for the development.

The Municipal Authority will receive more funds to loan or grant to neighborhood homeowners for home rehabilitation. The Neighborhood Development Program grant will allow the Urban Renewal Department to apply for a federal grant to expand the NDP housing rehabilitation and physical improvement program.

One new social program, the Drug Education project, was approved by the board for $27,876. The goal of the program is to develop methods and to train people to help black drug users, who are not being reached by current programs. The project would help existing drug programs reach black users.

Three current Model Cities social programs received additional funds. Family Clinic ($15,640), Minority Contractors ($12,768), and Tacoma Area Child Tutoring ($18,208) received allocations to carry them through December, 1974.

HUD has recommended that $200,000 of the recent grant be set aside for expanding Model Cities processes into city government and for setting up a new Department of Housing and Community Development. Funds for administration will come from terminated projects which have not used all their funds.

The board passed a motion supporting restoration of full funding to Model Cities, as recommended by the National Model Cities Community Development Directors Association. Model Cities is asking the Administration and Congress to appropriate more funds for Model Cities so some projects will not have to be phased out in the next few months. Projects will be extended as long as they have funds to continue. The Executive Board could not fund a number of existing projects because of the limited funds available.

It's been called the worst drought of the twentieth century and there's no end in sight. A million have already perished. Their cattle are decimated. Their crops are dry. And the cruel Sahara continues to grow thirty miles a year. By this October, another ten million people could meet a death of starvation and disease. Unless somebody helps.

An entire generation of six nations hangs in the balance—waiting for food, medicine, and hope. You can help them today by sending a check or your pledge to the African Drought Relief Committee. Your help is desperately needed.

Fantastic Black Facts

by Rose Marie Johnson

During 1969, throughout a growing portion of the black community it was coming to be felt that non-violent methods of expressing dissent had little effect on local or national policy. The efforts of moderate leaders such as Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young to keep the Negro community on a forceful but non-violent course of action, while still appealing to the majority of blacks, were running into increasing difficulty. Meanwhile, a new area of racial conflict appeared in the military, which only a short time before had been heralded as the one place where blacks could find true equality. Black soldiers reenlisted at record rates, but there was evidence of considerable discontent and claims were made that the traditional conditions of prejudice and discrimination had not been eliminated. Black servicemen joined together in various encampments in mass protests regarding their unfair treatment. Nevertheless, it was somewhat encouraging to the black community that military and civilian officials in the highest quarters were at least verbally indicating a concern for these matters and were making public avowes of their intention to promote greater justice and equality for black members of the armed services.

Religion was also very much in the headlines in 1969. The U.S. Congress on Evangelism attracted 5,000 delegates from 95 denominations to its meeting in Minneapolis, Minn. Sponsored by Billy Graham, Oswald C. Hoffman, Leighton Ford and other prominent evangelists, the congress studied ways and means to make preaching of the gospel more relevant and urged Christians to respond to the physical as well as the spiritual needs of the minority poor.

For the amateur cook a reader wrote that a potato will take odors out of used grease and absorb excess salt when dropped into a pot of soup. Also if anything has scorched, drop a raw Irish potato into the pot to absorb scorched or burned taste. Just pour off whatever matter does not stick into another pan, add water and the potato, and cook until potato is cooked.

Have a beautiful and happy Easter.

School District Advisory Committee to Meet

The Tacoma School District's advisory committee to the Emergency School Aid Act program will hold its regular monthly meeting at Reed Elementary School, according to Irwin Krigsman, program director.

The meeting will begin at 3:30 pm next Monday (April 15). Observation and discussion of the murals painted on the walls of the Reed school as an ESAA project will be part of the agenda.

It was announced that the project would be funded for a second year last Friday. The total grant of $476,314 will enable the district to add two more schools to the 19 already in the project.

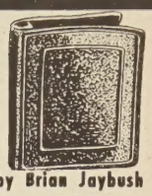
SPORTS RECORD BOOK

Long Live 715



by Brian Jaybush

Figures: it was game number 2,967, at-bat number 11,295, season number 21. It was in Altanta at 9:07 p.m., bottom of the fourth inning, game number four of the 1974 season. There was one man on base with no one away. The count was 1-0. The home team was trailing their visitors, 3-1.

It was 715.

No mortal human being had ever hit a 715 before. Until 9:07 p.m., April 8, 1974, 715 bad been a mythical creature, existing in the minds of many people as what might have been had The Babe stayed in baseball longer. 715 was something to be found with Alice in Wonderland -- a trick of the Jabberwocky, a game of the Mad Hatter. 715 was something that only someone who came to Earth with powers and abilities far beyond those of mortal men could even dream of.

715 was floating toward the left-field stands of Atlanta Stadium at 9:07.

715 might be remembered as a two-run blast that tied the ballgame at 3-3. A hundred years from now, no one will remember 715 (ah, fleeting fame for the poor number!) A hundred years from now, it will just be another entry in the record books under "Aaron, Henry." Listed with it will be the fact that, in the second inning of the same game, Aaron became the most prodigious scorer in the National League, scoring his 2,063rd run--and passing the mark set by Willie Mays, who retired from baseball last year. 715 was just an anti-climax to THAT record---run number 2,064.

And in the long run, the blast that will be remembered is the one that will come almost at the end of the season...number 745 or so. For that will be the new mark, the all-time all-consuming goal of every kid who ever picks up a baseball bat and gazes at the distant fences of his ballpark. 715 will just have been a milestone along the long road to setting that record of 745 or so.

Following the game, Aaron was asked what it meant to him to break the record. Aaron replied, "Well, probably tomorrow I'll wake up and realize what happened. Right now it's just another homerun. The most important thing is we won the game."

They won the game, 7-4. That will probably not be remembered either, a hundred years from now.

Nor, probably, will they remember the curious triviality that the pitcher who served up number 715, Al Downing, wears jersey #44...just as Henry Aaron wears jersey #44. All these will be recorded in the record books somewhere, where people a hundred years from now will never look at them.

But this is right now. 715 is still a warm memory, floating toward the stands on a rainy night in Georgia.

Long live 715.
